MISSION/ASSESSMENT

Contemporary Topics in Orthopedics is a non-profit organization committed to providing learning opportunities and personal interaction with orthopedic colleagues and allied health professions in Maine, while also [providing a forum for paper & research presentations by regional professionals

OVERALL PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this conference participants should be able to identify and discuss areas of controversy, current treatment guidelines, areas of active research, and subspecialty topics in orthopedic surgery

The Physicians/Learners attending this conference will be able to discuss cases and surgical/medical treatments regarding: Care for joint replacement, elderly patients with proximal humeral fractures, bone and soft tissue tumor evaluation, non-union of proximal femur fractures, lumbar inter-body fusion and other topics.

Expected results of the CME program target Maine Orthopedic Surgeons and Allied Health Professionals for improved colleague interaction (communication), enhancing competence, and performance while improving patient outcomes and contributing to lifelong learning experience
